From Darrel's Desk . . .

Art Linkletter was host of two of the longest-running shows in United States broadcast history: House Party, which ran on CBS radio and television for 25 years; and People Are Funny, on NBC radio-TV for 19 years. House Party is best remembered for a segment called "Kids Say The Darndest Things" in which Linkletter interviewed schoolchildren between the ages of five and ten. The kids were always cute and they really did say the darndest things.

And they still do. A few months ago, our granddaughter, Starr, asked her mommy if she would go to "little heaven". "Little heaven; what's that?" her mommy asked.

"You know, mommy. Like the song says: 'Jesus. Jesus. Jesus. Little heaven and earth proclaim...'" It took a moment for mommy to realize that Starr had misunderstood the phrase "Let all heaven and earth proclaim". But Starr is little so she figured that she would go to "Little Heaven".

If you are reading this, you are older than Starr is. And you can grasp the fact that it is not a "little heaven". In Revelation 21, John (who saw heaven in a vision) said it is 1,400 miles long and 1,400 miles wide. John said the wall around the city is 200 feet thick and that the walls contain twelve gates into the city. That is no "little heaven". That works out to almost 2 million square miles! At almost 2 million square miles, heaven is big enough to have space for you. God has made room for you. Will you make room for God?
